SCHOOL REPORT, TOWN DISTRICT.

The schools for the school year of 1894-'95 have been as a whole very successful, as much so as has been the average for the past number of years.

Teachers residing in the town were employed during the first and second terms with one exception. For the third term it became necessary to employ three teachers from out the town district. They proved efficient in their work, but the health of one failing necessitated another change for the last part of the term.

We regard the work done by the teachers in most instances as well done, especially when we take into consideration the fact that none of them have had the advantages of special training in a normal school to fit them for their special work. We respectfully suggest that all teachers if they consistently can, secure the special training which normal schools impart, that their rank in their chosen work may be equal to the best.

We are of the opinion that parents should manifest more interest in the schools where their children attend, than some of them apparently do. While it is proper for them and others to attend the closing exercises of a term, yet to have any adequate conception of the work of the classes it is necessary to witness the exercises before the last day in the afternoon, when there is a dress parade, and the children are embarrassed by the sight of a number of persons who do not enter the school room at any other time.

We believe that having thirty weeks of school in most of the districts is a move in the right direction, and think it very desirable that appropriations be made each year to give that amount of time to all the schools in the district where the number of scholars will warrant the service.

PENACOOK DISTRICT ANNUAL REPORT.

Mr. Atwell left us at the end of the summer term. Mr. George Sanborn, a teacher of much experience and well recommended, was engaged as principal of the Grammar department. Miss Hall in the Intermediate, and Miss Pike in the Primary, have fully maintained their high reputation as teachers and workers.

Miss Pike has had charge of the vocal music exercises in which all the schools join. Success has attended her efforts, and more attention should be given to this branch.

One of the most important factors in every community of good report is its common schools. Do you think our schools are accomplishing all they should? If not, why not? We would not shirk our responsibility if we could. Neither can you. It is true that nine tenths of the boys and girls in this village will have no other school advantages than those they have here. It is absolutely necessary that when they leave these schools they should have a thorough knowledge of Arithmetic, Geography, History, Bookkeeping in its simpler forms, be able to read, write, speak, and spell the English language correctly, to understand the laws of health, and the primary principles of our republican form of government, to learn politeness and self respect, and to respect the rights of their associates and others. These are some of the duties and privileges of the common school. Ask your boy or girl what they learn about these things. The Thanksgiving exercise in which the three schools participated was interesting and creditable. There should be more regularity in attendance. A day out of school is so much valuable time lost.

We earnestly commend these schools to your careful consideration, and ask your cordial coöperation with the teachers, and school board, in making our schools what they must be in order to insure substantial results.

Respectfully submitted,

S. P. HEATH,
GEORGE NELLER,
J. C. PEARSON,

School Board.
